MINISTER ENDS HIS SUFFERING.

REV. THOMAS POTWIN HANGED HIMSELF TO A DOOR KNOB.

HE WAS MENTALLY WEAK.

He Belonged to a Leading New England Family and Was an Eminent Clergyman.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 24.—The Rev. Thomas Stoughton Potwin, M. A., one of the best known Congregationalist clergymen of New England, has committed suicide at his home in this city.

Mr. Potwin had been in poor health for some time, and since the recent development of melancholia had been under the care of Dr. Stearns of the Insane Retreat. While his family was away yesterday afternoon he went to an upper room and hanged himself with a rope fastened to the door knob.

Mr. Potwin was a descendant of Elder Brewster, who came over in the Mayflower, and by intermarriage his ancestors were doubly related to Jonathan Edwards and the elder Timothy Dwight, president of Yale College.

He was born in East Windsor, Conn., April 4, 1859, and was graduated with high honors at Yale in 1881, exactly one hundred years from the time when his great grandfather, also a clergyman, received his diploma there.

Mr. Potwin studied at the famous East Windsor Theological Seminary, received the degree of M. A. at Yale in 1885, was licensed to preach in 1883 and became a tutor at Yale. He married Harriet Amelia King, a member of a prominent Boston family.

During the war Mr. Potwin preached in Franklin, N. Y. After that he preached in Amherst until he came here, in 1894, and with his wife took charge of the Hartford Orphan Asylum. His work in establishing a colony for orphans in Nebraska attracted much attention in the Christian world.

In 1887 his health caused him to abandon active work and he went to Florida, returning to this city soon afterward, where he has lived quietly ever since. He was a man of rare scholarly attainments.

He leaves a widow and two adopted children—Clara Brewster Potwin, now teaching in New Jersey, and Fred Thomas Potwin of East Windsor.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

A Chicago Capitalist in Trouble With a Widow.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Theo. Feltner, a retired capitalist, residing at West Pullman, is sued for breach of promise by Mrs. Sarah Glover, who asks that he pay her $25,000. Some time ago Feltner was a tenant in a boarding house kept by Mrs. Glover, she alleges, asked her to marry him. She consented, and while she was preparing for the wedding he went to Georgia on a business trip, and when he returned brought a wife with him.

MR. KINNAVEY GOT A GOLDBUG LETTER.

His Wife Refused to Give Him His Breakfast Till He Swore He'd Vote for Bryan.

MRS. KINNAVEY SAYS A FEW WORDS TO MR. KINNAVEY ON THE MONEY QUESTION—MR. KINNAVEY WILL VOTE FOR BRYAN.

Thomas Kinnavey, who does business at 217 South Seventeenth street, had trouble on his mind when he called at the Post-Dispatch office. Mr. Kinnavey has a square, gold frame and a determined countenance. He also has a great head.

He votes the Democratic ticket as a matter of habit, and agrees with his wife on principle. She is a reader and a thinker, and has the courage of her convictions.

"I want the Post-Dispatch to put me right," said Mr. Kinnavey. "It's this way: I'm a Democrat, and always expected to vote for Bryan. I didn't make much talk about it for I don't see the use of arguing. Besides, I thought everybody who knew me could locate my political views without a chart and compass. I was wrong."

"My wife woke me early this morning. I never saw her so mad. She had a circular letter in her hand and she shook it at me and I could see light in both eyes."

"Ain't you going to vote for Bryan?" said she. "Sure," says I.

"What does this mean?" says she. And she showed the circular at me. It was from this 'Sound Money Club,' and assumed that I was against Bryan and free silver.

"My wife told me if I belonged to that crowd she'd give me no breakfast, and when I left the house I needn't trouble to come back. I told her they had me wrong, but she was angry, and wouldn't believe it till I swore I was speaking the truth. Then she had breakfast, but she told me not to come back to sleep in that house till I had called on the bolters and told 'em they were mistaken. She also said I'd better call at the Post-Dispatch office and tell how I stood. She wants me to let my light so shine that there can't be any question about who I am for. She reads the Post-Dispatch, and if you print my statement she'll be convinced."

"Now, I want to subscribe $5 to the Bryan campaign fund, and I want you to put me on record as a free silver Democrat. She scolded those goldbugs that they're a mistake."

Mr. Kinnavey turned in his $5 contribution and left the circular that roused his wife's suspicion that he might have strayed into the wrong pasture. Following is a copy of the document:

"Sound Money Democratic Club, 708 Olive street, Sept. 23, 1896. Dear Sir—A careful canvass of your precinct has just been completed. Our canvasser returns your name as a sound money Democrat. It is of the utmost importance that every Democrat, opposed to the Chicago platform and the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, should assist in defeating Bryan and Sewall by joining the Sound Money Democratic Club. There is no expense attached to membership in this organization, and good results can be accomplished by having a large membership. If you are in sympathy with our efforts, and desire to defeat Messrs. Bryan and Sewall and Populist doctrines, please sign the enclosed card and mail to us immediately. The Sound Money Democratic Club now has 4,000 members, and is growing at the rate of 100 a day. We want your name to add to our list."

BENJ. H. CHARLES, Secretary.

Copies of it have been received by many stanch Democrats who have no idea of bolting, but they did not have the fine tempered wife that Mr. Kinnavey is blessed with to urge them to public repudiation of the heresy.

Mr. Kinnavey was so much in earnest about being put right with his wife and the public that he dropped in again.

"Don't neglect to square me," said he. "My wife is holding me now on probation. If the Post-Dispatch comes out this afternoon without locating me I'll have to sleep in the woodshed. Don't forget. I've contributed five silver dollars to the Bryan fund and they are from my wife. I'm going to close my business house in St. Louis on election day so all my men can vote, and I'll shut down my mine at Belleville half the day. I've thirty men at work there, and they all want to vote for Bryan, and I'm not the man to put obstacles in a Christian's way."

A SHAM ADMINISTRATION.

Cleveland to His Goldbug Cabinet: "Go ahead and make sound money speeches. McKinley must be elected."

Cleveland to Silverite Officeholders: "Get out. You have no business to mix in politics."

ANGRY AMAZON IN ALTON TOWN.

MRS. SLICKER BLUFFED THE WHOLE ALTON POLICE FORCE.

ARRESTED BY THE CHIEF.

Gun in Hand, She Insisted on Keeping Workmen From Tearing Down Her Condemned Home.

For twenty minutes yesterday afternoon an angry woman with an ugly looking revolver in her hand stood off the whole Alton police force, backed by all the rest of the city officials.

She swore that she would kill the first man who approached her and her language was so unmistakably in earnest that for a time it looked as though she would carry the day. Chief of Police Kuhn was eventually summoned to the rescue and succeeded in bluffing her out.

The trouble arose over the determination of the authorities to tear down the houses and shanties on Front, between Henry and Ridge streets. The property had been condemned for railroad purposes after a bitter fight. The feeling was run high and for this reason the police were on hand to see that no rioting should occur.

Everything went smoothly enough until the workmen reached the home of the Slickers. Here they ran against a snag. Mrs. Slicker had vowed that not a stick or a stone of her property should they touch unless over her dead body, and she was on hand to enforce her will.

Even a policeman has a wholesome respect for a revolver, and when they saw Mrs. Slicker standing in the front yard with her eyes blazing and the cocked weapon in her hand, there was no great precipitancy in joining issues with her.

First they tried cajolery. They insisted that it wasn't in the least lady-like in her to run such a bluff on brass buttons, but she couldn't see it that way. To tell the truth, Mrs. Slicker didn't seem to care just then whether it was lady-like, angelic, seraphic or satanic. She was there to protect her property, and she proposed to do it while she had breath in her body.

She made it so strong that the police concluded she meant business, so a council of war was called. Finally it was decided by the understrappers to appeal to the chief.

This official went hurrying to the scene and half the town went with him. The crowd jeered the discomfited blue coats and made even money bets that the woman would win.

But she didn't. She weakened at the critical moment and went just like the softest, sweetest creature that ever ate bon-bons and dandied herself sick in a ball room.

Chief Kuhn put on the boldest front he could muster and charged on the lone, lone amazon. She might have been equal to putting a bullet in just a common poltroon, but when it came to performing as a man, she threw up the sponge and down the gun and let herself be "pinned."

CHAS. F. CRISP DEAD.

Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives Passes Away in Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 23.—Charles F. Crisp, the ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, died here this afternoon.

Charles Frederick Crisp of Americus, Ga., was born on the 29th of January, 1846, in Sheffield, England, where his parents had gone a visit. He was brought by them to this country the year of his birth, and received a common-school education in Savannah and Macon, Ga. He entered the Confederate army in May, 1861, as a Lieutenant in Company K, 10th Virginia Infantry, and served with that regiment until the 12th of May, 1864, when he became a prisoner of war.

Upon his release from Fort Delaware, in June, 1865, he joined his parents at Ellaville, Schley County, Georgia; read law in Americus, and was admitted to the bar there in 1868. He began the practice of law in Ellaville, Georgia, and in 1873 was appointed Solicitor General of the Southwestern Judicial Circuit, and was reappointed in 1873 for a term of four years. He located in Americus in 1873 and in June, 1877, was appointed Judge of the Superior Court of the same circuit. In 1878 he was elected by the General Assembly to the same office and in 1880 was re-elected Judge for a term of four years. He resigned that office in September, 1882, to accept the Democratic nomination for Congress. He was permanent President of the Democratic Convention which assembled in Atlanta in April, 1883, to nominate a candidate for Governor.

He was elected to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses, and re-elected to the Fifty-third Congress as a Democrat, receiving 11,274 votes against 4,982 votes for Wimberly, People's. He was elected Speaker of the House for the Fifty-second Congress, and re-elected Speaker for the Fifty-third.

NINE BREAK JAIL.

Indian Territory Robbers Escape From the Federal Prison at Ft. Smith, Ark.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 23.—Nine Indian Territory criminals escaped from the United States jail last night. Nearly all of them are charged with robbery. With the ball of a bucket and a bed slat they removed bricks connecting with the cells from which the Smith boys, the Corretta train robbers, had dug a hole to the roof. The nine men escaped from these cells through the ventilator.

Boy Shoots Himself.

Frank Kane, 14 years old, 2204 North Broadway, accidentally shot himself in the side while examining a revolver. The wound was dressed at the Dispensary and is not serious.

OUTLAWS BESEIGED.

Officers Penned Them in a Cave and Killed One and Mortally Wounded Another.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 23.—A fight between officers and outlaws is reported from Limestone Cave, in Union County. John Tully, who killed Sheriff Grinstead some time ago, had taken refuge in the cave, with his father and another man.

A posse, in command of Deputy Garland, tried to dislodge the outlaws. Tully the elder was killed. The younger Tully got a buckshot wound in the breast, but continued the fight until his arm was broken by a pistol ball.

Deputy Garland was shot through the neck and is likely to die. Another of the posse received a serious wound. Young Tully is in jail. His wounds are thought to be mortal.

SPEAKER REED ON SILVER.

From a Speech to His Congressional Adherents in 1894.

Referring to the closing of the Indian mints by the Government of India, and the great fall in the price of silver which followed, Mr. Reed said:

"We have learned from that object lesson that the yellow man using white money holds at his mercy the industry of the white man using yellow money."

DEMOCRATIC WILD CAT MONEY.

THIS NOTE IS A LEGAL TENDER FOR ALL DEBTS NOT DUE OR CONTRACTED PRIOR TO 1892.

CLEVELAND BANK - BUNTON, N.J.

Promises, whenever it is called on, to pay TO BEARER FIVE DOLLARS IN MONEY, COON SKINS OR CORD WOOD AT THE OPTION OF THE BANK.

THE WILD CAT BANK SCARE OF 1892.

In 1892 the Republicans tried to scare the people with the prediction of wild cat money flooding the country in the event of Democratic success. The Democrats won, but no one has seen the promised wild cat money. Now they are warning the people with a note about 15-cent dollars if Bryan is elected. The result will be the same—the dollar will keep on being worth 100 cents and the Republicans will hunt up a new Bogie man for 1896.

pleading guilty to the second or any lesser degree. No man who has any reason to hope for acquittal of the charge of murder in the first degree would take that course.

Of course it is impossible to successfully defend Mr. Zachritz, but if he can hire a better attorney than the Globe-Democrat he ought to do it.

The total bona fide circulation of yesterday's (Thursday's) Post-Dispatch was 4,417 copies in excess of the circulation for the corresponding Thursday of last year. The total city sales were 9,788 copies larger than for the same day last year. No extras or transient orders of any kind are included in these figures.

The total circulation of the Post-Dispatch is many thousands larger than that of any other St. Louis newspaper, and the city circulation is several thousand larger than that of the Globe-Democrat and Republic combined.

WAGES WILL BE OUT.

Andrew Carnegie was the burdard of the Republican campaign of 1892. The Pinkerton riots and bloodshed which he precipitated by a cut in wages that year were potent factors in defeating Harrison. Carnegie will compete with Archbishop Ireland for the distinction of being the Republican burdard of 1896. The Carnegie Iron and Steel Co., Limited, has already posted notice of its intention to demand a "readjustment" of the wage scale to go into effect Jan. 1, 1897. The workmen of this country have good reason to know what a "readjustment" of wages at Homestead means. It means reduction. And if reduction is now it means Pinkerton, militia, bloodshed, lock-outs and starvation. These things came at Homestead shortly before the election of 1892. This year they are to come shortly after the election.

In an interview given to the press this week Mr. Carnegie said that he entertains no doubt of McKinley's election. It was, doubtless, in the full assurance of McKinley's election that the notice of a proposed "readjustment" of wages was given.

There is not the slightest doubt that the election of McKinley will be the signal for the greatest general cut in wages this country has ever seen. Falling prices under the gold standard have been reducing the profits of nearly all employers. Carnegie's notice shows that they intend to make a cut in wages corresponding to the fall in prices and the falling off in demand.

There is no doubt of this intention. Carnegie has made the mistake of giving it away too soon. If the workmen cannot see the signs of their coming ruin in the event of McKinley's election the lessons of the past are lost upon them. And if they fail to rise in their might and defeat it at the polls they are unworthy of their rights as freemen.

Remember, a vote for McKinley is a vote for lower wages.

Frank H. Cooper of the firm of Sigel, Cooper & Co., the greatest retail dry goods house in Chicago, has come out for Bryan and free silver and will preside at the great Bryan business men's meeting in Chicago next Wednesday, Oct. 28.

The same day that Mr. Cooper announced his action, Mr. W. M. Hanna, the great wholesale grocer in Chicago, also declared for Bryan and the Chicago platform, and nearly all his employees are with him. On the same day that these two announcements were made, Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas, the most popular divine in Chicago, came out in a strong and convincing interview in Bryan's behalf. No wonder plutocratic Chicago is startled.

"CLAIM EVERYTHING."

The Hanna campaign in its closing stages is easily defined. While his vast corruption fund is being placed where it will do the most good in the larger cities and towns, the railroads and other big employing corporations are applying the coercion policy as rigorously and as openly as they dare.

To buy the purchases and to coerce the timid in Hanna's last scheme of success, the so-called "campaign of education" has broken down in complete failure. McKinley is beaten on the issue, and Hanna knows it. In these last weeks of the campaign it is perfectly evident that his reliance is upon boodle and bull.

Realizing that there is another class of voters who cannot be bought or intimidated, but who want to be on the winning side, Hanna has passed the word around among the Republican newspapers and shouters to make a great show of confidence, to brag and bluster, to claim everything. As the professional bullfights haven't enough confidence in McKinley's success to wager their money on it, a part of the Hanna corruption fund has been placed with brokers and other money dealers in the large cities, to be used as the basis for fake bets at big odds. All this is to sway the doubtful voter to what he can be made to think is the winning side.

the food staples and the cotton she has to buy of us. What has been our loss has been her gain. And when she sees the probability of losing a market in which she can sell money dear and buy food cheap, she hastens to load up with all the supplies she can get at gold standard prices.

For she understands well that even the highest prices for wheat under a gold standard are less than those she will have to pay under bimetalism.

England is playing her own game well. Shall we help her? Or shall we help ourselves?

It is to be regretted that Mr. Carlisle was pelted with eggs in his own home. Such demonstrations, wherever they may occur, cannot be too strongly condemned. No matter how much honest Kentuckians may detest this two-faced politician, who has been so honored by the party he has betrayed, the prices for wheat obtained from giving vent to their feelings in unlawful ways.

Mr. Reed no doubt felt a melancholy interest in St. Louis, where his party rejected him in spite of his work in forcing through the high tariff bill by means honest and dishonest. Alas for our Northeastern Palast! No man who has been a Czar can ever be President. He can only be a catspaw for his inferiors.

Mr. Cleveland's idea of good faith is to make the word "coin" mean only gold. The Carnegie Iron and Steel Co., Limited, has already posted notice of its intention to demand a "readjustment" of the wage scale to go into effect Jan. 1, 1897. CITY NEWS.
COUSING WILL BE THE SPORT.
ST. LOUIS TO BE THE CENTER OF THE GAME IN AMERICA.
FAIR GROUNDS PROGRAMME.
D. J. O'Callaghan Will Probably Judge the Meetings—John Egan or E. H. Massie Will Slop—Sporting News.

Coursing will be the sport of sports in St. Louis during the coming winter. Great interest is being manifested in this grand outdoor sport all over the West, and if the way in which all the great courses are turning towards St. Louis and with the best dogs they can secure is any criterion this city will lead the country in coursing this winter. Coursing is a comparatively new pastime in this country, but it has fast grown in public favor. It is an exciting, exhilarating pastime, and as such appeals strongly to the American people. It is a game that is easily understood, as the points are plain even to the novice. Among those who will send their dogs to run at the Fair Grounds are Dr. Van Hume, the celebrated Indianapolis physician; W. R. Russell, the owner of the famous Melrose and Durbin, the young Iowa courser, who won the Waterloo twice in succession; E. T. Mulcahey, the celebrated trainer, who has handled the winner of many a Waterloo, and Mike Allen of Chicago, the owner of St. Clair and Good Cheer, two of the greatest dogs in America. In addition to these will be the best kennels, some of which are as fine as any in the country. Charles Robinson's Diana, Frank Leonard's Duke, and John Egan's here, John Egan will have Eleanor, Louisa Lass and other good ones. John Hambrick, Mike Hannick, Brown & Curran, Eugene Nally, Luke McLaughlin and others will send their dogs to the Fair Grounds. The question of who will act as judge is giving the association matter for cogitation. It is hard to find an honest and at the same time competent man for the position. There are plenty of men who are honest and both honest and competent, but they all own greyhounds who will run in the stakes, which makes them ineligible. At present Mr. D. J. O'Callaghan of St. Louis is the only man mentioned for the place. Mr. O'Callaghan fulfills every requirement. He is capable and his integrity is unquestioned. If the Fair Association can secure his services they will have an excellent judge, but it is doubtful that Mr. O'Callaghan will consent to act. Basil Hayman of Chicago, who judged here last year, is another good man who might accept the position. John Egan will probably act as sloop although E. H. Massey of Chicago, a very good man, may be secured. Either gentleman would make an excellent sloop. There has been some talk about securing Mr. Stephenson to act as judge. This selection might not be judicious. Those who know Mr. Stephenson's judging here last year, particularly in the Louisiana Lass White Diamond course, were not impressed with his work.

ASSOCIATION BOOMING.
Season Will Open Sunday—Diels and Hunts Play in East St. Louis.
 On Sunday next the association football season will be formally opened in St. Louis. Three games will be played by the six clubs of which the league is composed. The champion St. Louis team and the strong team of the St. Louis Cycling Club will meet their bows to the public at Old Sportsman's Park, the scene of the old Brown's triumph.

At the Christian Brothers' grounds the Jokers-St. Louis will play the College team. The Jokers are a new team in the league, but Manager Joseph Flood is a hustler, and he has secured a very fine team. The St. Louis team is a new team in the league, and the college campus should be well worth seeing. The third game will be played by the Diels and the Hunts at Ober's Park, East St. Louis.

This is a new departure, as hitherto the clubs of the league have met on the river. It was not possible to secure suitable grounds in St. Louis, as the proprietors of South Side Sportsman's Park refused to rent their grounds to the league on reasonable terms. The management of Ober's Park very kindly consented to give the league the splendid new grounds in East St. Louis, and as that city has an athletic and sports-loving population, the venture will prove successful. East St. Louis will support a good club in a liberal manner.

The St. Louis Cycling Club team is made up of East St. Louis players, and will represent that city in the league. Games will be called promptly at 3 p. m. The admission fee will be 15 cents for adults, 10 cents for boys under 15.

DIANA GETS INTO SEMI-FINALS.
But Robinson's Other Dogs Were Put Out in the Second Round.
 St. Louis greyhounds had tough luck at Altair yesterday. In the Great Bend Cup Charley Robinson's four dogs, Dakota, Sylvia, Royal Buck and Diana, went through the first round all right, but the three first named died in the second tie. Diana remained in by a narrow margin, and is now one of the last four dogs left in the stake. She stands an excellent chance of winning the stake.

C. E. C. VS. SHUTTLEFF.
Capt. Theodor Bland Is Confident His Team Will Win To-Morrow.
 The interest in the game of foot ball which occurs on the campus of the Christian Brothers' College to-morrow afternoon is deepening with every hour. Last year the college team won the local championship and with it the Von der cup. The team of this year has been honestly struggling to get itself into the best possible shape, but now they succeed in being told that they line up against Shuttleff to-morrow. Capt. Theodor Bland has a great deal of confidence in his men. He is perfectly satisfied with the manner in which they have attended to practice well as the nature of the practice they have had. Mr. Ben Thompson, who played center for Missouri, has been called to the college during the past week, and under direct and careful methods they have improved immensely. He too, has great confidence in the winning powers of the team and feels assured of their success.

ON EDGE FOR NEBRASKA.
Tigers Determined to Win Every Game They Play Hereafter.
 Special to the Post-Dispatch.
 COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 23.—The Tigers, though greatly disappointed at their defeat by Illinois, are not discouraged. They believe that they were in a crippled condition and were playing against luck in that game, for had they done anything like the work which they do in practice games and been in as good shape physically, the result would have been different. The team has been aroused and they are determined not to lose another game this season.

NEW TAXES CAUSE TROUBLE.
Turkish Ministers and Officials Hold Opposite Views.
 CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 23.—The trades issued yesterday in connection with the recent purchases of arms have resulted in a very grave condition of affairs. The ministers are opposed to the poll tax, but the officials insist that the measure was necessary for the defense of the empire. The Christians are preparing to attack the Muslims, and the Muslims are preparing to attack the Christians. The British consulate appointed to investigate the situation of the Christians in Constantinople and its suburbs have been rendered destitute as a result of the recent measures.

THE HANDS OF THE RECEIVER.

FAILURE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN MISSOURI.

FILLEY FORCED TO TERMS.

Mark Hanna Appoints a Committee of Millionaires to Handle the Boondoggle in This State.

The Republican party in Missouri has gone into the hands of receivers. Sitting at a court of last resort, Mark Hanna, the boondoggle dispenser for McKinley, has taken drastic measures to save himself for the political creditors of the G. O. P.—the State and electoral nominees on the Republican ticket.

At the slush fund headquarters in Chicago Thursday Chairman Hanna named the receivers who will take charge of the shattered wreck which is all that is left of the party under Mr. Filley's skillful looting.

They are five in number and each is a man of millions or backed by a man who has unlimited capital.

As named by Mr. Hanna, these are the receivers:

W. H. Thompson, for Mark Hanna; Chas. Parsons and Edward Whitaker, for Chauncey I. Filley; Wm. Nichols and C. Mansur, for R. C. Kerens.

They were appointed as the direct outcome of the fierce fight for control of the State machinery between Filley and Kerens, which Kerens proved to Hanna's satisfaction that Chairman Filley was knifing McKinley and quietly letting the grass grow under the Republican machine in revenge for his throw-down.

Chauncey I. Filley has been emulating the "Sick Man of Europe." He has slaughtered McKinley "Armenians" until he is tired and has refused to either fish or cut bait.

Becoming disgusted with the dilatory tactics of the Sick Man of the Missouri, Hanna has been firing ultimatums at him for a week.

He asked him to either work in harmony with the Republican National Committee and advocate in favor of Kerens, "The Old Man," refused to do either.

Then Hanna asked him to agree to give up to an advisory committee which could run the campaign.

To this Mr. Filley responded, naming the Filley henchmen as the only ones he would consent to let run the campaign.

It was then Mark Hanna's policy was refused to accept the suggestion of Mr. Filley, and informed him if he would not agree to let the Filleyites, two Kerensites and one Hannaite would run him out of the Missouri and turn the Kerensites loose in the building.

Mr. Filley's original counsel gave way. He capitulated as gracefully as a grizzly caught in a trap and growled reluctant submission to Hanna's policy.

Then Hanna named the five receivers, who will take charge of the wrecked party right away and the money to pay it at least 10 per cent to the unfortunate creditors.

They are men familiar with percentages in their corporate capacity as receivers of the Republican party in Missouri they represent an aggregate wealth of more than $20,000,000.

This is the way they also up:

Charles Parsons, bank president, five millions.

Edward Whitaker, president Lindell Railway, five millions.

William Nichols, president Commercial bank, two millions.

C. Mansur, manufacturer, one-half million.

W. H. Thompson, president Bank Commerce, ten millions.

And Col. R. C. Kerens, Republican National Committee member, who has been appointed to handle the receivers for the State. The wily Mark didn't want his money to fall into the hands of the Filleyites.

News of their appointment had not been sent to the receivers Friday forenoon.

Until officially informed they declined to discuss it. Banker Nichols said that the way to get information about it was to write to Chicago. Charles Parsons said that he had not been informed of his appointment and insisted that he knew nothing about it.

Mr. Mansur is not in the city. Col. Kerens is out in his private car with a friend, trying an object lesson to the voters of Missouri how prosperous some men may become under the Filleyite standard.

The Missouri is closed tight as a drum to all callers who are not on Mr. Filley's "list."

Among the Filley workers the arbitrary action of Hanna in completely eliminating the "boss" from the campaign is deeply resented.

They know now that in the event of success they will be the hunted and not the hunter. The prospects of boondoggle being distributed by the "receivers" cuts no ice with them for they know it will not be thrown their way.

They are quietly preparing to slaughter Mr. Charles B. Parsons, Kerens' candidate in the Twelfth Congressional District, and are refusing to have anything to do with the new administration.

It is part of the deal between Kerens and Hanna to have a series of Republican rallies in different parts of the State, Hanna has agreed to pay all expenses and Col. Kerens and the "receivers" are to do the rest.

DEAD BABY IN A BOX CAR.

Strange Find of Edward Becker in the Iron Mountain Yards.

The body of a dead infant, which had evidently been prepared for a long journey, was found on top of a box car in the yards of the Iron Mountain Railway, between Miller and Carroll streets, at 3 a. m. Friday, by Edward Becker, a clerk in the freight office.

Becker was checking up the cars in a train before it left on its Southern trip. When he came to box car No. 7048 he noticed some clothing on top. He climbed up and there found the dead infant, wrapped in a pair of jeans trousers, a blue calico shirt and some muslin gaiters.

He notified the police and the body was taken to the morgue. It is that of a boy, apparently a few days old.

More About Mr. Kern.

L. Hendrick appeared at the warrant on Friday morning and complained that L. H. Kern, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, had solicited $25 for insurance from Laura Kern of the Missouri. He said that several of his recent transactions contained good ground for complaint, and that the fact that he was a few weeks ago, he asked for a warrant, but Col. Johnson said that he would dispose of one complaint against Kern at a time.

Lucky to Escape So Well.

Mr. Janice Allen and Miss Lillian Allen of the South Cotton avenue, and Miss Emma Golden, 222 S. Main avenue, were taken from a car at Potomac street, Thursday afternoon, when a car was driven across the Avenue at Potomac street, when a Pullman car ran into the carriage. Mrs. Allen and Miss Allen were taken to her home and Dr. Ude said that her injuries were not serious.

BOG OPERATORS ARE BEARISH.

FOUGHT EVERY ADVANCE IN THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

IT HELD NEAR 75 CENTS.

Operators Claim the Scarcity of Money Prevented the Cereal From Going to 90 Cents.

After Thursday's drop of nearly 3/4 cents there was a feeling of trepidation on "Change" when the December wheat quotations opened Friday morning.

The downward course of the market boded no good to many of the "eleventh hour" speculators. Scores of outsiders who had bought December wheat just before it slumped off could hope for little short of absolute failure if the cereal continued to drop.

The "big fellows," the men who had made hundreds of thousands on the jump, were safe. They had no reason to watch the magic dial with feelings of dread and apprehension. It was the outsiders who were on the ragged edge.

There was a general feeling of relief among the small fry when the pointer started on its daily round at 75 cents. This was an advance of 1/4 cents over Thursday's closing price.

Despite the efforts of the small speculators a good foreign demand for wheat, the price went down to 74 1/2.

It dropped a point at a time until it went as low as 73 1/2, when it took an upward turn again.

At 10 o'clock the opening price, 75, was reached. The market went up steadily to 75 1/2, then remained stationary for some time.

On the 11 o'clock call it had dropped back to 75 1/2.

Prominent speculators on "Change" say the present break in the market was never have taken place but for the scarcity of money.

The policy of the banks in hoarding their gold is said to be largely responsible for the inability to sustain the market.

With a good foreign demand for wheat, a demand out of all proportion to active European needs, the American dealers have been unable to make the most of their opportunity simply because the banks were unwilling to make concessions.

Even the gold bug grain broker is vulnerable in the region of his pocket and is apt to spend right out in meeting the tampering he done by one of his Wall Street friends.

From statements made on the floor the explanation of the drop just as the market seemed about to strengthen is not difficult to find.

Large speculators who bought wheat early in the season were forced to draw on the banks for loans to cover the expense of maintaining their stock in the elevators.

It is an open secret that within the last few weeks the banks not only in St. Louis but all over the country refused to make new loans to grain commission merchants and refused to renew loans already outstanding.

At least that is the opinion of some of the heavy operators on "Change." They all acknowledge that the effect of the action of the banks in refusing accommodations has been to enable the foreigner to buy wheat comparatively cheap at the expense of the American farmer.

Bank officials do not deny that they are ready about extending accommodations to the American farmer. They take the ground that "money is scarce."

George P. Plant, one of the wealthiest millers on "Change," said Friday:

"I have little doubt that wheat would have gone to at least 90 cents but for the scarcity of money."

The action of the banks in refusing to extend loans has forced a great deal of wheat on the market that would not have been put there had it not been for the lack of money.

"The fact is prices have not been what they should be. This country has been in a continuous panic since I can't say that I blame the banks exactly. It's a matter of money."

There was some excitement when the wheat market went to 75 1/2 shortly before noon. It was a crack in the market. Very little trading resulted from the jump.

The four men are jubilant over the strengthening of the wheat market. According to the statements made by prominent millers the outlook for the four trade is very bright.

As was the case with wheat the advance in price was principally on four for export. The European demand for flour has kept pace with the European demand for wheat. This would seem to be another argument that Europeans are stocking up on American cereal products in anticipation of a contemplated victory of Bryan and free silver.

Ordinarily, one would think Europe would buy her wheat here and make four of it at her own mills.

It is not only buying our wheat, but our flour as well, and paying fancy prices for both. The wheat she is storing in her granaries and the flour in her warehouses in anticipation of a rainy day.

The day that a free silver policy is adopted by the United States will be a very rainy day for Europe.

J. B. McKelton said: "The exports of flour are almost unprecedented, and they have kept pace with the exports of wheat. Last year the Minnesota millers made roads on our market here with their spring wheat flour which they produce much more cheaply than we could produce our winter wheat article."

"This year, strange to say, most of their wheat is being shipped to Europe. Their wheat was this year, because they find a large foreign demand for their product. The foreign demand for our winter wheat article is even larger. The foreigners seem very anxious to use American flour this year."

George P. Plant: "The export market for flour is better than it has been for years. Europe apparently cannot get enough of our product. Her demand for flour has been very close to her demand for wheat. So much so that the highest prices have been paid for it by the foreigner. The high price is paid mostly by foreigners. The rise is not affecting the home consumer to the same extent."

"If Europe gets much more money, she'll be sending over here after American bread to go along with her consignments of flour and wheat."

The highest price of the day was reached at 12 1/2 o'clock when the market registered 75 1/2. There was a fall and the closing price was 75 1/2.

JOY AND PEARCE BOTH DOOMED.

DEMOCRATS WILL CARRY THE 11TH AND 12TH DISTRICTS.

HUNT AND KERN ARE SAFE.

Goldbuggism Has Slaughtered Joy and Filley's Knife Is in Maj. Pearce's Heart.

The Democratic committees of the Eleventh and Twelfth Congressional districts have carefully canvassed the wards in each, and they are confident of carrying both.

In the Eleventh District, where John T. Hunt, the free silver Democratic nominee, is making a phenomenal race, the outlook for the defeat of Congressman Joy and the election of Mr. Hunt is good.

The district has always been a close one. Congressman Joy carried it two years ago, when the financial question was not an issue.

In this campaign he is running on a single gold standard platform, while the voters of the district are for free silver.

Candidate Hunt is making speeches nearly every night, sometimes two or three of them, and is conducting the most aggressive campaign the district has witnessed for years.

From now until election day every ward will be kept alive with silver orators, and the Democratic candidate and his friends will talk to every voter in the district.

Congressman Joy and the single gold standard Republicans are seriously alarmed.

They are rushing imported orators through the district who are pleading for Mr. Joy's return to Congress.

In the Twelfth District the indications are equally good for the election of Robert H. Kern, the Democratic candidate.

Maj. Pearce, the Republican nominee, was not in the race. He was defeated by R. C. Kerens, C. D. Comfort and Nat. Frank. A bitter enemy of Mr. Pearce.

It was over the nomination of Maj. Pearce that "Boss" Filley and Dr. J. B. McCullagh fell out, and sustained a feud which has been running between them for nearly three weeks.

The Filley men are going to knife Maj. Pearce and Candidate Kern, who is pronouncing by this wrangle between the opposing sides on the side of the face, cutting his ear almost off and making an ugly gash down his cheek.

Charles Wilkinson's Experience With a Hungry Negro.

Charles Wilkinson, who prepares hamburger steaks and other delicacies at the lunch-counter at 610 Market street, was carried into the City Dispensary Friday morning by his friends to have his ear sewed on and a rap in his face closed.

Wilkinson was attending to his duty when an unknown negro accosted him and asked him for what he technically known as a "hand out." Wilkinson said he had no "hand out" to hand out and further asked the colored man to chase himself.

The negro grabbed a knife and hurled it at Wilkinson's head. The blade hit Wilkinson on the side of the face, cutting his ear almost off and making an ugly gash down his cheek.

Thompson sewed him together and sent him to the hospital.
